Minutes of Meeting

The August meeting of CKAG met on August 19 with only 14 persons present. Three of these were guests: Kate Bateman, Linda Wade, and Bridget Faulkner. They hope to join in September at the beginning of the new year.

Jo Friel reported on the success of the oil workshop taught by Carol Reesor. Jo also made three requests concerning future workshops. 1) They need to be publicized in the paper and by calls. 2) Let Jo know if you would like a certain medium and she will look for a teacher. 3) She left a sign up sheet for members to indicate if they are interested in life drawing. Those could be done at Our Place on the Tuesday morning class time.

The All Member Show details were discussed and workers volunteered for the drop off and pick up days. Debbye also reported that the Nominating Committee has recruited most of the current committee chairs to keep their positions. The position of Publicity is still vacant and Debbye will fill in until we get a volunteer. The slate of officers was presented and voted upon with all positions being filled by unanimous vote.

The Charity Health Clinic Auction was discussed. We were all pleased that Carl's painting sold for an amazing price of $15,500!

PROGRAM: Theresa Shelton presented the program entitled Value in Landscape Painting. She had a well planned informative presentation. It included quotes and hints from well known artists and individual sheets upon which we practiced the grouping of the big value shapes.

Our Place To Host September and October Meetings

“Our Place” at 790 North Dixie Suite 500 is open for members to paint in groups.

Several members met to paint at Mary Lou Hall’s house instead of Our Place on Tuesday the 27th. Anyone who wants to paint with us just contact Mary Lou or Joyce. We will meet on the 2nd and 4th Tuesdays from 10 to 12 noon. Bring your paints and join us whenever you can.

Charlotte Brammer is willing to head a group to paint either Monday or Tuesday evening from 5-7 p.m. once a month, if she gets enough interest. Once the group gets going, they may meet more often. If you want to paint, please email her at gabrammer@comcast.net and copy marylouhall@windstream.net. Tell her which evening (Monday or Tuesday) would suit you best.

Thank You, Elsie for letting CKAG use Joe’s refrigerator. It doesn’t make ice. So a cooler to hold a bag of ice would be good for group meetings. We also have a coffee pot and some basic coffee supplies. We will meet there for the general meeting on Sept 16.

There are a few felt-back plastic table cloths in the same room for use as table covers and drop cloths. We could use some more of these. We also need grocery bags and masking tape to give each person who paints a personal trash place. Joyce is going to bring us a large garbage can to place near the door. We need big black trash bags for it. This will make clean up after a painting session easy.

The bathrooms currently have hand soap, paper towels and toilet tissue but are getting low. If someone would just bring one of these items now and then, we would not have to buy them.

Artist News

By the time you receive the newsletter, Theresa Shelton’s first fall art fair will have come and gone. Theresa set up on Aug 31 and Sept 1 in Frankfort for the ‘Art in the Gardens at Liberty Hall’. The setting for the fair is relaxing allowing visitors to stroll through the gardens and enjoy beautiful art at the same time. Theresa’s booth was by the river this year.

Dear CKAG members,

CKAG has been an important part of my last 20 years, and I have made many friends whom I will miss. But it is time for me to move on. My husband is afraid I will wrap myself around a telephone pole, or worse, somebody else.

I have been Vice President, Artist of the Month Chairperson, Chair of Annual Show and Secretary. As Secretary I would send out 6-8 cards to people who didn't come to meetings but had normally done so in the past. I raised money for prizes and had hostesses to welcome guests and see that they signed the Guest Book when I worked on the shows. As Artist of the Month chair, I started 1st, 2nd, and 3rd winners to give reasons that painted the picture they had. I left brochures at the Library and invited new artists. I gave gifts to speakers while I was Program Chair.

I hope that we can get together some day. Tell everyone to:

1. Take a deep breath before starting to work. Joe Fettingus
2. Make a value sketch. Theresa Shelton
3. Sketch and paint in a series. Martha J. Hollenbach
4. Remember that when you miss your mark, it's probably because of values. Marilyn Matthews

Keep your brushes wet. I'll think of you often and pray for each and everyone of you every morning.

Thanks. Love,
Marty Hollenbach

On August 15 I fell at home and broke my left ankle and crushed my right elbow. I've had quite extensive repair to the elbow, been in a lot of pain, and am still hobbling around in a boot. Hopefully I will be back to normal soon. Thank you for the prayers, cards, flowers, and Edible Arrangement.

Juanita

Art is a family tradition that dates way back. It seemed like everyone in my family, including my mother, was an artist. Growing up I thought it was natural for everyone to have easels sitting in their homes. My very artistic uncle recently texted me that, through ancestry research, my aunt found that artists in my family date back to 1619 when Otto Marseus van Schrieck of Amsterdam was born. His paintings and biography can be found on the Internet today and, while I am not a complete fan of his subject matter (I could do without the snakes and lizards), I do admire his fine skill as an artist. He also taught painting and had many students.

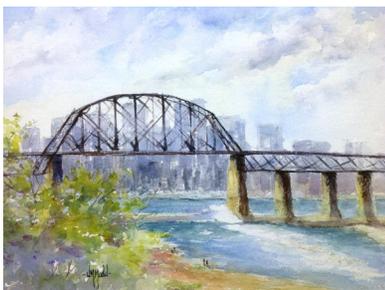

With so much artistic influence in my family, especially watching my mother paint when I was a child, it only made sense that I would become an artist as well. So years ago, I developed a self-directed art education, studying books and taking classes, workshops and advanced ateliers with artists that were strong in areas where I wanted to improve. Eventually I would develop my own style, but as it should be with all artists, my style is evolving. I am always studying, experimenting and hopefully improving my skills as an artist. I am now an award-winning artist, teacher, and workshop instructor specializing in landscapes, cityscapes and portraiture. I teach several watercolor painting classes a week and conduct occasional workshops on portraiture and landscapes. I love being able to share my passion of creating art with others.

Painting a variety of subjects keeps me inspired, but in all of my work capturing emotion and atmosphere is key. Without a story, mood or emotion—then what is a painting? Being an avid plein air painter, I belong to Brushes with Nature, a KWS Plein Air group. Painting on site, from life, has enabled me to add atmospheric elements to all of my paintings, including my studio portraits.

A late bloomer to art shows and exhibits, I was thrilled to have my very first entry into the prestigious American Watercolor Society's International exhibit accepted into their show in New York. I have also been accepted into the Southern Watercolor Society's annual exhibition. Here in Kentucky, I am a juried member of the Kentucky Arts Council's Kentucky Crafted program and the Kentucky Guild of Artists and Craftsmen. I am also a member of the Kentucky Watercolor Society, the Portrait Society of America, the National Watercolor Society, American Watercolor Society, and other professional groups.

I live in Louisville, Kentucky with my husband, daughter, and her service dog, who actually prefers people to wait on him! it's a good life...i paint daily in my home studio and it doesn't get any better than that!
