REMINDER:

DECEMBER—This will be our annual Christmas dinner, which will be a potluck. Guests are welcome. This meeting will also feature our Art Exchange. Members who wish to participate will produce one piece of art and wrap it. It will be numbered at the meeting and then numbers will be drawn out of a hat.

JANUARY-FEBRUARY-MARCH meetings will be held on the 2nd Saturday.

ANNOUNCEMENT: Second Saturday is on November 9 from 10-12. Instead of using this day for art, we may need to use it to start clearing out our meeting space. If you have some boxes you can donate so we can transport our library and other items, it would be greatly appreciated. We may be able to stay through the winter; however, at the beginning of the year, we will probably need to vacate. Using the space next door and seeing if Nolin has any days open have been suggested as alternatives for new meeting spaces.

ARTIST OF THE MONTH:

1st place—G.A. Wells

2nd place—Theresa Shelton

3rd place—Elizabeth Parks

The meeting was adjourned at 7:37 p.m.

Submitted by Debbye Hassell

PROGRAMS

For the January program next year, G.A. Wells has offered to show us how she uses a proportional measuring device on almost all works of art.

Note: During the months of January, February and March, our meetings are held on the 2nd Saturday of the month.

No workshop news at the moment.

Soon, we will be electing new officers. I'd like to welcome anyone interested in the position of Program/Workshop chair to please speak up. It is an interesting way to serve the Guild.

INKTOBER

Since I won't be at the November meeting, I'd like to share the few ink sketches I finished for Inktober. My self-imposed theme was Garden Critters. I first positioned five shapes on an 11x14 sheet of Bristol Board, then hunted a subject that would fit each one. I inked over a rough pencil sketch then added some color pencil. Due to life happening, I didn't get to create a sketch each day of October. Maybe next year.
